TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The

From seed to bouquet, this is the story of four flowering years. During this time, the elements of guidance and study, patience and care, produced intelligent growth and provided us with a plan for our future.

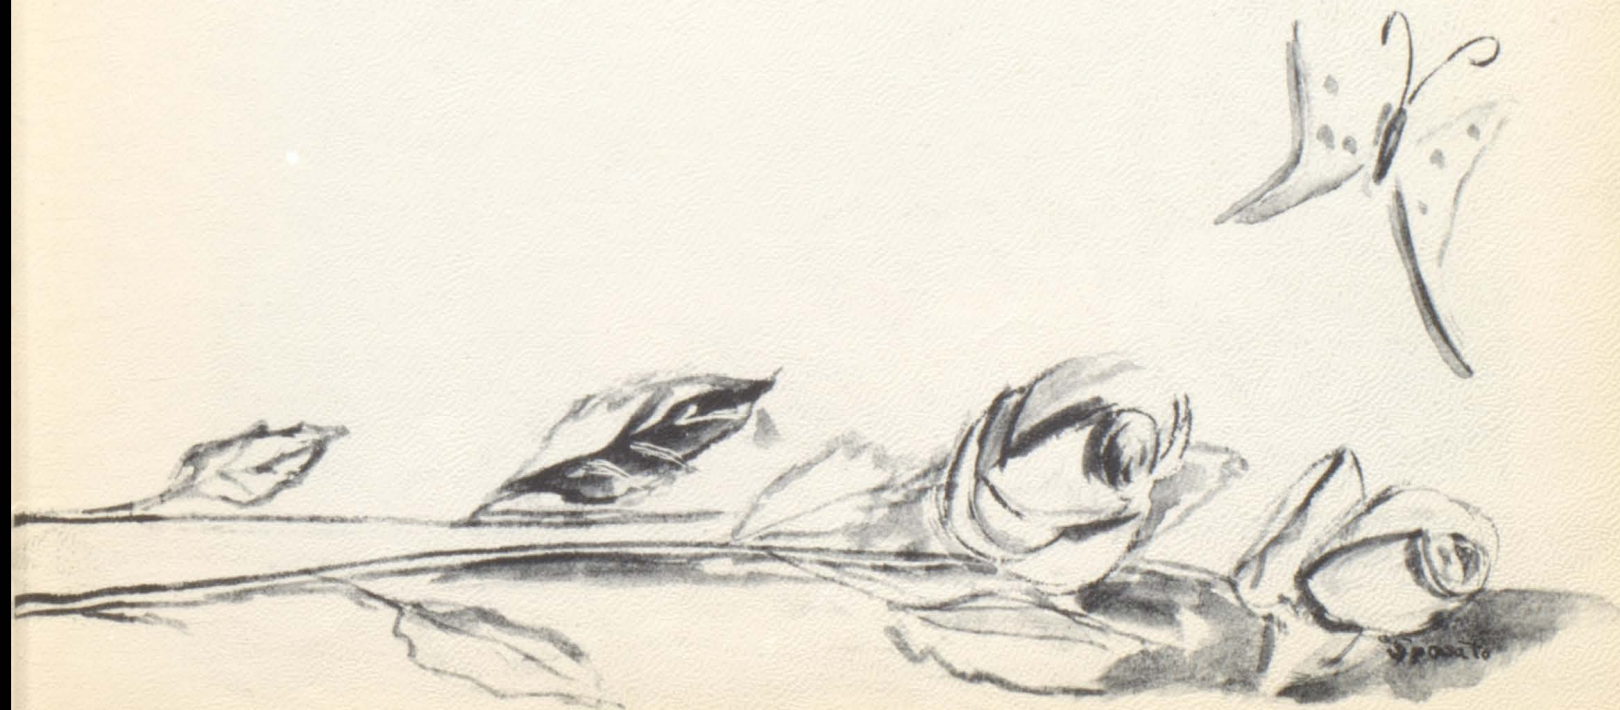

In 1953, as shy and timid seedlings, we were scattered about in new surroundings. How bewildering it was to be confronted with a cafeteria line that seemed to have no end. How perplexing a combination lock could be. The seedlings found adjusting a little difficult; but soon roots began to take hold, and at the Hallowe'en Dance Freshmen, Freshmen, and more Freshmen appeared in gay profusion.

Then, in the Sophomore year we were transplanted into the rich and fertile gardens of our chosen careers. As buds, full of freshness and vigor, we started to unfold as beauticians, technical secretaries, comptometer operators, bookkeepers, typists, artists, dressmakers, and dieticians.

Flowering Years

The buds blossomed forth in the Junior year. Full growth was approached and skills were acquired. But it wasn't all work—we had opportunity for fun, too. The glamour of the Junior Prom took on a sophisticated air with its "Paris Accent." The Student Council election, with its buttons, skits, laughs, and rooting, was full of excitement. However, the season soon came to an end, and we were ready to be put into the Senior Bouquet.

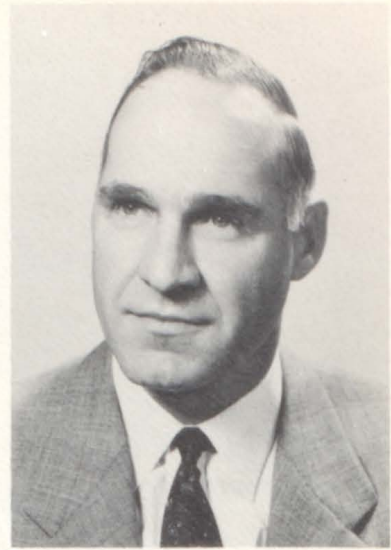

Thus, the Class of 1957 spent the year being arranged for display in June. Yes, life at Essex High was over, but this Bouquet would not wither and die; we would continue to flower as we entered the business world.

Principal

The Senior Bouquet of 1957 has reached full bloom only because of your untiring efforts in nurturing our growth during the past four years.

Your continual encouragement has given us the necessary confidence to develop into well-adjusted personalities, both academically and socially. Your constant desire to maintain high standards throughout our school activities will enable us to assume the responsibility for a more meaningful life as we pursue our future.

Transplanter

ELIZABETH R. DUNHAM
Guidance Counselor

One of the most important decisions that faced us as we entered our sophomore year was choosing a suitable career.

Many times during these three years, when our roots were forming, we were grateful for your assistance in solving our personal as well as our school problems.

As a result of your guidance and advice, we were transplanted into our future life's work.

Especially for You — An Orchid

GEORGIA L. NORTON

Typewriting — Medical Stenography

No other flower is more prized than this orchid which we reserved for you. We are proud to dedicate this year's Athena to a teacher who has devoted her time and effort to the education of young women.

The rhythmic clicking of the typewriters coming from Room 217 signifies "girls hard at work." These students have learned to master the skill of typing and to value the importance of maintaining high standards while under your skillful and intelligent teaching. Not only have you helped train girls in the business trades but also adults in medical stenography, where you have imparted your knowledge and have afforded post-graduates an opportunity to become medical secretaries.

May we express our gratitude and appreciation for your constant interest in us, and we hope that your future years will be most rewarding.

Beauty Culture

This course trains students to serve patrons of a beauty parlor. These future beauticians have access to the most up-to-date equipment and, during the latter part of their three-year course, the operators work on customers other than the students. With the completion of their course, they are eligible to take the New Jersey State Examinations for licensure in Beauty Culture. Many students obtain employment in department stores; with steamship, rail, and airline companies; and cosmetic firms as sales representatives or demonstrators; as well as in beauty shops.

Dressmaking And Design

The dressmaking and design course prepares students for the field of fashion, which is one of the largest and most glamorous industries in our nation. Adequate practice is given to the students in fitting, draping, altering, and designing women's clothing in accordance with recognized dressmaking standards. New ready-to-wear clothes for customers provides their best learning experience during the senior year. Through art classes they learn to design and develop their own original ideas. Opportunity and employment are limitless for those who possess artistry with the needle.

Technical Secretary

In Essex County excellent opportunities are offered to the young woman who possesses the skills and understanding of how modern industry functions. The girl who takes the Technical Secretary course acquires not only competency in secretarial skills but, in addition, an understanding of the terminology and problems of the different technical fields. Positions in these fields provide excellent working conditions and high salaries with many fringe benefits. The Technical Secretary is truly a "Girl Friday."

Commercial Art

It is not essential that the person entering this course have unusual art ability.

If she is interested in commercial art, her skills will be developed. She will be encouraged to participate in the Newark bank poster contest sponsored by the Howard Savings Institution and also the National Scholastic Magazine Awards for college scholarships.

This course offers instruction in the fundamentals of line and color followed by training in specific job techniques for a wide variety of occupations. Every business requires the ability of the professional artist in some capacity.

Pretty and petite, saucy and sweet . . . sort of shy until he gave her the eye . . . friend to all, foe to none and always loads of fun.

Food Service

The food industry offers stability of employment and income to the young woman who is interested in the preparation and art of cooking. She will learn the kinds and varieties of foods necessary to maintain a balanced diet. Planning meals, figuring costs, dining room management, and selection and layout of equipment are taught in a practical way by using the school tea room and cafeteria as laboratories.

Alma Mater

*In our hearts there is a picture,
Shining bright and true,
It's a picture of our high school,
Our Dear Gold and Blue.*

*For your honor we shall struggle
On the Road of Fame
Gratefully, dear Essex High School
Singing loud your name.*

*Though the years that go before us,
Dim our memory,
Recollections of our school days,
There will always be.*

Forget-Me-Nots

Queen of Hearts Dance

Our eighth annual "Queen of Hearts Dance" was held on Friday, February 15, and was sponsored by the Student Council. The Valentine decorations in the gym were done by Mrs. De Marco's beauty culture classes.

Antoinette Chieppa was chosen by popular vote to reign as Queen. Her beauty and citizenship qualities made her eligible for this honor. She received her crown before approximately five hundred students and friends from the President of the Student Council, Barbarann Fabiano.

Assisting the Queen were six beautiful attendants—all of whom had been contestants in the election.

Antoinette Chieppa comes forward to receive her crown.

The big moment arrives—Barbarann Fabiano places the crown on the new Queen.

Carol and escort enjoy refreshments.

Orchestra takes a break and so do we.

Evening In Paris

We may have arrived in the rain, but the weather didn't dampen our spirits. Red-checked table cloths—bright awnings—a glittering Eiffel Tower—and twinkling stars set the scene for our big night. The gym had been transformed into a true Parisian sidewalk cafe. We all entered into the gaiety of an "Evening in Paris."

Our bouffant gowns and formal coiffures gave us an air of sophistication, which we have never experienced before. Our escorts were most attentive and never looked more handsome.

Our Junior Prom was due to the efforts of Miss Reilly and the Junior girls on the decorating committee; Mrs. Luckert, who handled all the financial problems; and the girls who took such pains in addressing the formal invitations. Several of our faculty members as well as Seniors came as guests of the Junior Class and helped make the evening a huge success.

Dancing under the stars:

As a Seed Grows So Does a Dream . . .

On the night of October 24, 1956, a dream became a reality when an organ was dedicated to Miss Clara H. Krauter, the former Principal of our school, and accepted by the Essex County Board of Education.

For many years Miss Krauter waged a campaign to obtain the needed funds for such an organ. Though it took several years to raise the money, her fondest hopes were finally realized.

The bronze plaque, which was permanently affixed to the organ, bears the following inscription:

"Whose wisdom, foresight, and effort have made this school an outstanding example of progress in vocational and technical education for women."

It will serve as a reminder for all times of Miss Krauter's interest and loyalty to us.

"AND DINNER IN THE DINER"

United Nations Visit

Our first glimpse of the U.N. was the panorama of its multi-colored flags that seemed to be waving towards us in anticipation of our arrival.

We had but a moment to glance at the magnificence of the main lobby as we entered the General Assembly, where we were to attend the Atomic Energy Meeting. At this time we had the privilege of watching the delegates stand to adopt the "Atomic Energy Peace Plan," which some day will go down in History.

At 11:30 lunch was served to us in the fabulous Delegates' Dining Room, which was enclosed by giant picture windows that provided a beautiful view of the East River. The menu included various dishes that were specialties of foreign lands. The majority of us chose Arroz Con Pollo Portugaise. It was delicious!

Our afternoon was spent in listening to a lecture on the functions of the U.N. and in taking the guided tour through the Secretariat Building. Several of us found a few spare minutes to purchase souvenirs at the gift shops.

With an entirely new vision of the U.N. in our thoughts and a feeling of great security in our hearts, we started our trip homeward. All of us realized that this day had been a most inspirational experience.

The United Nations Speak

*As United Nations we fight
And undivided we stand,
Against all evil intentions
To mar or destroy our lands.*

*Free nations we are called
And this we aim to be.
Let no man attempt to rule
Beyond his own destiny.*

*What manner of nations are these
That dwell in a vise of hate;
That strive for another's despair,
That seek to devastate?*

*The globe and the olive branches
Are a symbol for all to share.
May those who see this emblem
Utter this fervent prayer.*

*Oh God! give us strength as the years go by
To protect our people from hunger and woe.
Keep us steadfast and closely united
As we conquer the belligerent foe.*

Dietary Assistants

Program offered to high school graduates to train students in the supervision of food preparation and to assist the dietician in her hospital duties. The first semester is given at school and the second semester is spent in hospitals.

Medical Secretary

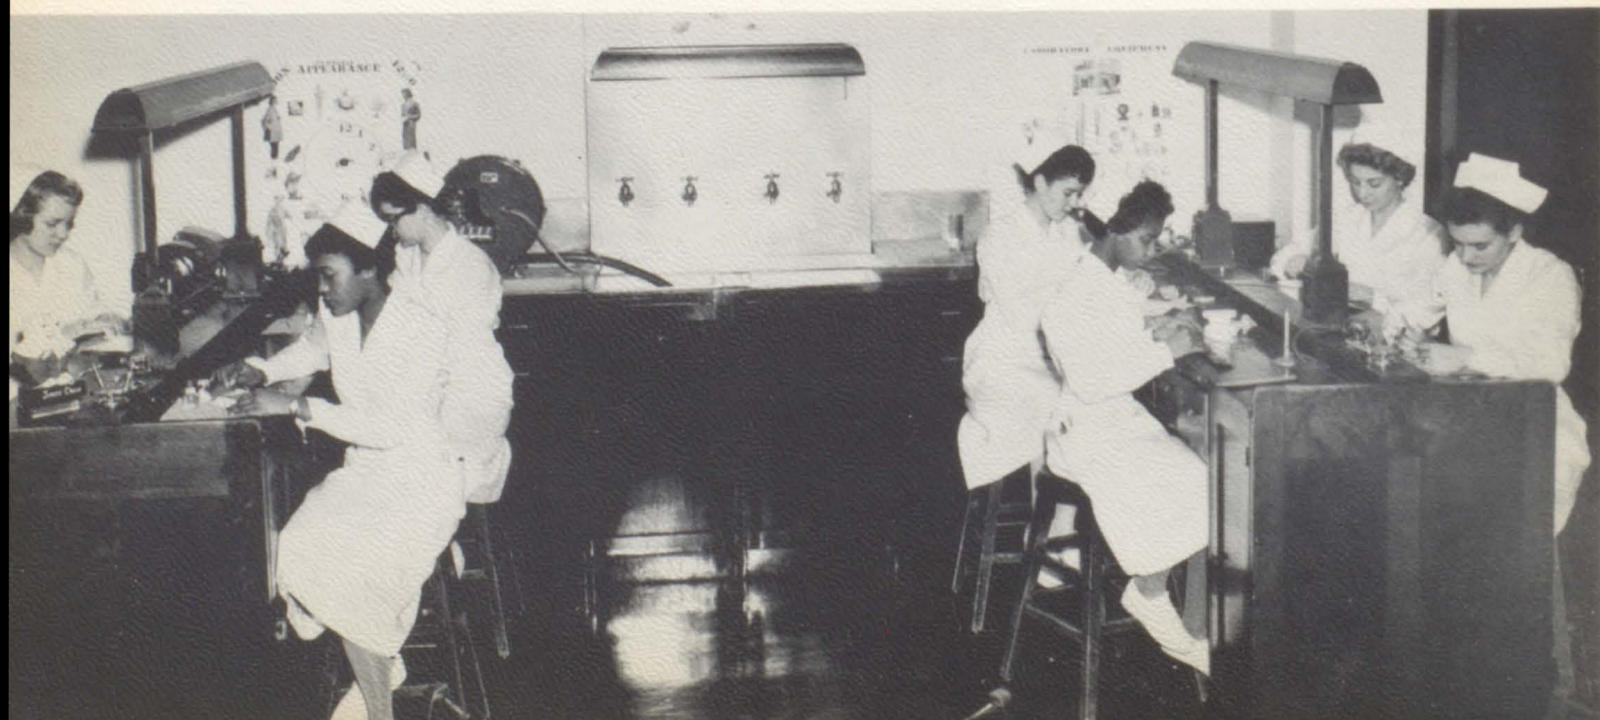

Technical terminology and dictation, office secretarial work, high professional standards, and practical medical theory prepare students for a most rewarding profession.

Dental Assistance

"Education, Efficiency, Loyalty, and Service," is our motto. This one-year course trains students in office procedures and how to assist the dentist at his tray.

Beauty Culture Trade

This course covers all phases of beauty culture work and prepares students to take the State examination for licensure. Beginning jobs are usually as operators in department stores, hotels, or neighborhood shops.

Cosmetology

Training covers all branches of beauty culture and qualifies the student to take the State examination for licensure. In addition to the regular phases of cosmetology, the course offers the chemistry of cosmetics, applied art, and shop management. Opportunities are available as demonstrators, stylists, and consultants.

Beauty Culture Trade

A one-year course offering complete training in all phases of cosmetology and beauty culture as required by the State of New Jersey for licensure. Many graduates successfully manage or maintain shops of their own throughout the United States, Africa, and the West Indies.

Driver Education

It is during the Junior and Senior years that the girls learn to drive. In the classroom they learn the fundamentals of how and why a car functions. This theory is then applied when they become eligible for "behind the wheel driving."

Under the expert guidance of our driving instructor, Mr. Stanziale, the girls soon learn to relax and gain confidence. Because of this training and excellent safe driving record, we were presented this year with the Citation Award from the Automobile Association of America.

Glee Club

Under the skillful direction of Miss Inez Bull, the Juniors and Seniors become elements of vocal sound. They are requested to perform on many occasions, such as Parent's Night, Open House, holiday assemblies, and at several outside affairs and benefits, which are held in the community's hospitals and churches.

Our organ, which is a new acquisition, accompanied the choral group during the Christmas program, "Born in a Manger." This beautiful assembly proved to be one of the highlights of our school year.

Bookworms

The Bookworms, under the guidance of Miss Wood, perform the many jobs that keep the library running smoothly. Because of the services rendered by this club, our school library is open from 8:15 in the morning until 4:00 in the afternoon including the lunch period.

A prospective member must write a letter of application expressing her desire to become a Bookworm. She then attends a series of classes where she is taught the many services of the library. Upon completion of this training, she is given a test. Her test grades, attendance during library instruction periods, and the rating of her letter are factors considered before she is chosen as a member.

The membership of this club is increasing considerably due to its many special activities such as participation in the Teen Corner Council of the Newark Public Library, membership in the New Jersey School Library Council Association, and the sponsoring of guest speakers for assemblies—the most recent speaker being Mrs. Phyllis Whitney.

Several parties are held throughout the year and an annual award is given to the senior who was most active during her last year in the club. Meetings are scheduled once every three weeks, and at that time both entertaining and educational programs are given.

COUNCIL

Our organization, under the supervision of Mrs. Owens, consists of 24 home-room representatives who meet once every month with their six Student Council officers. This group listens to suggestions brought to them by the different representatives; they discuss the merits of these suggestions; and, if they are beneficial to all and serve a good purpose, they are passed by the governing body.

We are particularly proud of the democratic manner in which our council functions. All elections are by secret ballot. The responsibility for the success of all dances is assumed by the committees. Participation in all recreational facilities by the students during the school day is under the supervision of committee chairmen, usually the school officers.

AUDITORIUM: Five minutes before every assembly the ushers are excused to take their posts, hand out programs, and assist in seating the student body.

CAFETERIA: Each girl wears a badge and is assigned to a particular location in the lunch room, where she sees that the lines move smoothly.

HOUSEKEEPING: This committee is responsible for checking all corridors, locker rooms, and girls' rooms for cleanliness and orderliness.

PUBLICITY: A newsletter published by this group informs the students of all activities and dances, which are being sponsored by the Council during the school year.

RECREATION: These girls supervise all noon-time activities and are responsible for playing records in the gym and distributing games in the recreation room.

SAFETY: The committee is stationed on stairways, in halls, and in locker rooms to check running and to curb accidents.

WELFARE: Whenever students or teachers are absent for three days or more, an appropriate card is sent by this committee on behalf of the school.

Basketball Team

One of the most popular activities in our gym class this year has been basketball. All girls are invited to come out on Tuesday afternoons to practice. At this time, they are taught the fundamentals of the game and then during the second semester those girls who have become proficient will select their teams and enjoy tournament play-offs.

Athena 1957

Athena 1957 is the finished product of the seniors on the yearbook staff. The editorial staff exercised their imagination and came up with a theme that was pictorially developed throughout the book by the art students. Every written word set on paper by our typists was given much thought and consideration. The financial undertaking, which begins in October and lasts through June, was ably handled and administered by the business staff. All in all, the 1957 staff deserves plaudits!

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

THE STAFF OF THE 1957 Athena wishes to thank the following people for their invaluable aid in the production of our Yearbook:

MRS. LILA KANTROWITZ, our faculty adviser, who so willingly gave her time and assistance to all phases of our publication.

MR. HARRY CORSON, our business adviser, who worked so diligently with his able staff on all financial matters.

MISS PAULINE REILLY and members of her department who contributed outstanding art work.

MISS HELENE JANKOWSKI whose time was spent working with the Business Department in an effort to obtain advertisers.

MISS ROSALIE CAVALLO, Senior English teacher, who helped the graduates write their blurbs.

MRS. ROBERTINA RILEY who arranged for all professional photography throughout the book.

MR. NICHOLAS ICKES, of Ickes Annuals, who advised us, both as a friend and business associate, so that we could have the best possible yearbook.

THE SARONY STUDIO who did the beautiful photography throughout the book.

THE FACULTY, FRIENDS, AND STUDENTS who generously supported Athena during the magazine sale.

THE BUSINESS CONCERNS and patrons whose donations and advertisements made the Yearbook possible.

The Editor-in-Chief wishes to express her personal "thank you" to the very capable and inspiring Yearbook staff. Without their help, the immense job of producing this book could never have been accomplished.
